Dear Dr. Kessler,

The Hemophilia Alliance was pleased to see MASAC take on the challenge of defining a standard of service people with bleeding disorders should expect from their pharmacy providers. MASAC 188 establishes a common definition of what is the minimum required to provide appropriate care.

The individual members of the Alliance have been reviewing their capabilities to meet the requirements of MASAC 188. We are pleased to report that all 71 members of the Alliance meet or exceed the minimum requirements of MASAC 188.

We look forward to participating in an ongoing effort to continually ensure the best and most appropriate care for all patients with hemophilia and other bleeding disorders.

Best Regards,
